

Draw a Cartoon Butterfly - Grades 5-12

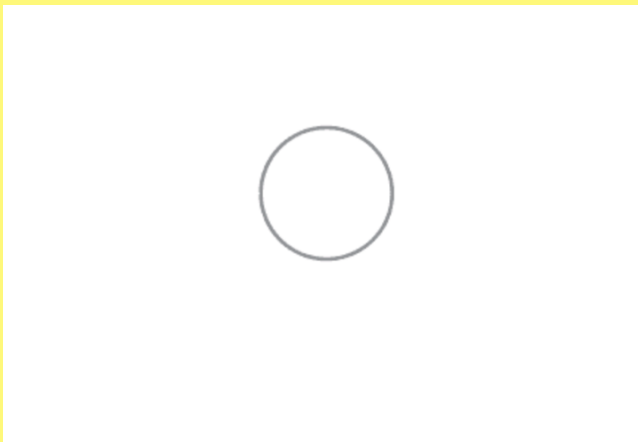

This drawing teaches students how to draw a Cartoon Butterfly using curved lines.

Materials: Paper, Pencils, Crayons, Watercolor, Pastels
Let's use a little geometry to draw a Cartoon Butterfly, step by step.

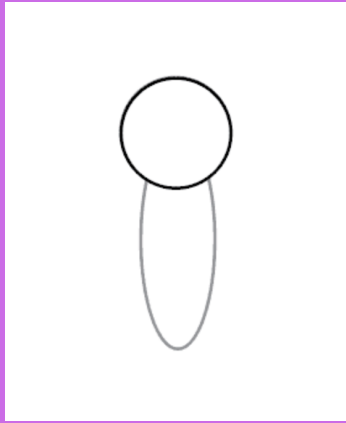

1. Start by drawing a circle for the head. The circle doesn't have to be perfect.

Tip: the more circles you draw the better they will look. Practice makes perfect!

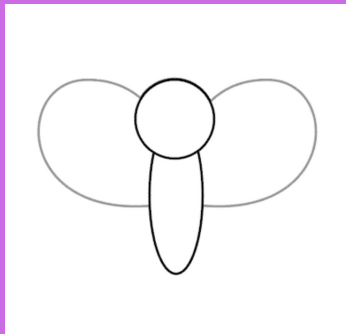

2. Next, let's draw a body shape.

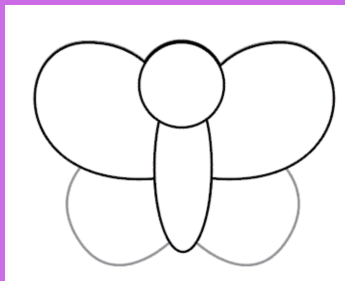

You can make it with one stroke, or make two strokes, starting at the top and joining at the bottom.

3. Draw a first pair of wings. Try to make them symmetrical.

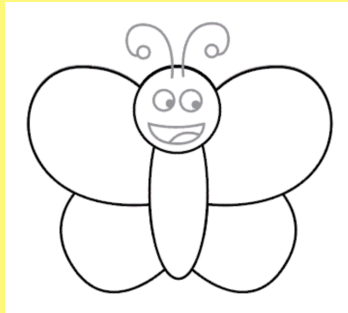

4. Now draw a second pair of wings. These are usually a bit smaller than the first pair, but there's absolutely nothing wrong if they are the same size or even bigger.

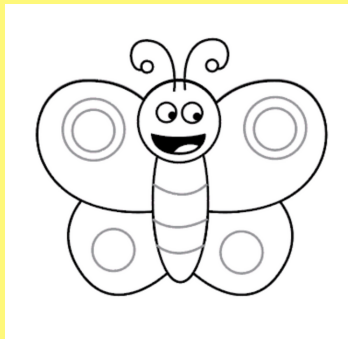

5. Now let's draw in a nice little face.

Everyone loves a butterfly with a smile :). I love when our cute critters are showing their tongue, so be sure to draw that too.

6. Add finishing touches.

Draw circles inside the wings (you can also draw other markings) and a few stripes on the body of the butterfly.

7. Color your Butterfly with any colors you like. Remember, Butterflies come in many different color combinations.
