

Name That Tune

This is a fun listening game that can be set up using different themes. These include: Disney songs, TV theme songs, movie songs, etc. There are also a ton of YouTube Name That Tune videos that you can search.

What You'll Need:

- Access to YouTube or Spotify. Or you can use songs you already have in your own collection.

How It Works:

- If you're using a computer make sure the students can't see the screen. There are many variations of this game; one that you can use is to play 10-15 seconds of the song and then give the student a chance to guess what it is.
- Points are awarded for getting the song title and the singer/band. If you're doing a Disney theme you can also award points for the song, the character singing it and the movie.
- If you have multiple students, you can divide them into teams.
